MAYORALTY RACE

9 Candidates Face Voters Tomorrow

One of the hardest fought election contests in years will be resolved in Penticton tomorrow when voters will choose one of two candidates for mayor and three of seven candidates for alderman.

Osoyoos is the only other South Okanagan municipality that will also hold elections tomorrow, candidates having been elected to office by acclamation at Keremeos, Oliver, Summerland and Peachland.

Keremeos ratepayers, however, will vote on a plebiscite deciding whether the village should extend its boundaries to take in District 749 Residential A lying immediately north of and adjacent to present village boundaries.

At Penticton, 17 out of the 5,099 eligible voters cast their ballots yesterday in the advance poll which continues today from noon to 3 p.m. in city council chambers at city hall. Only those who will be out of town on election day are eligible to vote in the advance poll.

Polling hours tomorrow are from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. in the Scout Hall on Jernyn Avenue. Returning Officer A. T. Longmore brings to public attention a new feature of civic elections prescribed by the new Municipal Act. Voters must now sign their names in a book provided, for that purpose at the poll, as they are given their ballots. In effect, this is a receipt for the ballot, Mr. Longmore explained.

Deputy returning officers at Penticton will be Jack Wilson, Mrs. F. Bowsfield, Jim Hendry and Will Dupont.

Penticton candidates are: For mayor—C. E. Oliver, running for re-election; and M. P. Finnerty, former MLA.

For alderman, three seats at stake—S. R. Hawkins and A. C. Kendrick trying for re-election; J. W. Johnson, Mrs. Elsie MacCleave, P. E. Pauls, W. A. Rathbun and J. D. Southworth.

At Osoyoos where Jack McCallum is returning officer, there are two candidates for commission chairman and five for two seats on the commission.

Running for chairman are Harry H. Hesketh, Osoyoos postmaster and former village clerk, in a re-election bid, and Eric Becker, accountant and former commissioner.

For the commission vacancies, Homer Falding, retired accountant, and Ernest S. Gaertner, hardware and building material merchant, are running for re-election.

Other candidates are Roy McDonald, grocery and meat retailer, and former commissioner; John Vargovsek, barber and former commissioner; and Sebastian Schmidt, carpenter and former community centre chairman.

Pakistan Gov't Toppled for Second Time

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP)—Prime Minister Ismail Chundrigar resigned today as the Republican party toppled the government for the second time in two months.

President Iskander Mirza immediately asked Chundrigar, 60-year-old leader of the Muslim League, to form a new government. The National Assembly then was adjourned.

The Republicans, Pakistan's largest party, withdrew from Chundrigar's coalition in a protest over his prime minister's proposal that elections be held under a separate poll system for Moslems, Hindus and Christians.

Reds Try to Halt Allies Defence Plan

BOON (Reuters)—Russia today made a tough diplomatic bid to halt Western plans to set up in Europe defence bases for atomic and rocket weapons provided by the United States.

Premier Nikolai Bulganin has written in the last two days to the heads of four major NATO powers—Britain, the United States, West Germany and France. His letter to Chancellor Konrad Adenauer was published this afternoon.

The carefully-timed Soviet bid came only six days before a NATO heads-of-government conference in Paris considers the defence program.

In the letter to Adenauer, Bulganin said the Soviet government is "deeply concerned" about the "drastic strengthening and extension of preparations by the member states of NATO for an atomic war."

Bulganin added "In our view the most pressing task at this time is to restore that confidence between states which was undermined in the years of the 'cold war'."

"If at present not all nations are yet ready to proceed to disarmament, the governments should at least assume moral obligations in order to put a stop to the arms race and—while the time being retaining the present level of armament—prepare the ground for further and more concrete steps in the sphere of disarmament."

Fire Destroys Historic Hotel

By GEORGE FRAJOKOR
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MONTREAL (CP)—A vicious five-hour fire Tuesday night gutted the three upper floors of the historic Windsor Hotel, traditional stopping place for visiting monarchs and statesmen.

Quick work by firemen, who rescued about 30 persons within minutes of the blaze's outbreak, prevented loss of life. But more than a dozen persons were injured—none seriously—by smoke and flying glass.

When the fire was extinguished at 3:15 a.m. EST today, firemen began a room-by-room check of the caved-in floors to confirm that none of the hotel employees or 270 guests was missing.

At least 15 persons were evacuated by aerial ladders and the rest were led downstairs through smoke-choked corridors to the main lobby where with most of the other guests they sat around calmly and sipped drinks while the south side crumbled.

Trade Mission May be Sent To Romania

OTTAWA (CP)—Agriculture Minister Douglas Harkness told the Commons today he hopes Canada can send a return agricultural mission to Romania.

He was answering questions about a similar Romanian mission that recently visited Canada. He said the Romanians bought a considerable quantity of Canadian hybrid seed corn in addition to a plane load of hogs, Hereford and Black Angus cattle, chickens and some machinery.

These were only sample purchases. If the Romanians found them satisfactory—as the minister was sure they would be—larger purchases would be made.

No Basis for Depression Says Bank President

TORONTO (CP)—There is no basis for the fear of a major depression at this time, A. C. Ashforth, president of the Toronto-Dominion Bank, said today at the bank's annual meeting.

"The evidence suggests that at the worst we are faced with a brief period of consolidation when some of the distortions resulting from inflationary attitudes to costs and prices, will be eliminated," he said.

RICHTER ATTENDS PENSIONERS BANQUET

Henry Oke, right, president of the Penticton Old Pensioners' organization, discusses a proposed Christmas banquet in the Canadian Legion hall yesterday afternoon. Banquet was attended by some 200 pensioners as well as a number of special guests, including civic officials.

Satellite May Neutralize Radar System in Arctic

MIDDLETOWN, Conn. (AP)—Representative James Patterson (Rep. Conn.) says that Russia's Sputnik No. 5, a one-ton affair being rushed to completion "right now," will be potentially able to

1. Neutralize our Distant Early Warning radar network in the Arctic.

2. Jam radio and television communications "anywhere in the world."

3. Broadcast Soviet propaganda.

His statement, he told an American Legion audience here Tuesday night, was based on information that was being revealed for the first time.

"Most reliable and authoritative sources," Patterson said, have informed him that Sputnik No. 5 would be placed in orbit 22,000 miles above the earth, which it would circuit once every 24 hours.

"Other satellites in the making will traverse the earth at lower altitudes and may be utilized as bomb-carrying vehicles," he added.

Asked why he referred to the one-ton satellite as No. 5, since only two are known to have been launched by the Russians, Patterson told reporters that "my information" is that the big satellite will be number 5, 6, or 7.

"I just used the lowest number given me."

Asked if he had any information about satellites No. 3 and 4, Patterson replied that he had, but "I would have to get clearance on that" before talking about them.

Under the agreement, West Germany will sign a contract with Eldorado Mining and Refining Limited, crown agency which buys and sells Canadian uranium, for the purchase of 500 tons of the radioactive material.

External Affairs Minister Sidney Smith said the agreement, the first signed with a country other than the United States and Britain, will come into force later this month. Canada has other agreements with the U.S. and Britain covering co-operation in the atomic field.

Under the agreement, West

Germany today signed a 10-year agreement for co-operation in peaceful uses of atomic energy which will be used as a pattern for similar bilateral pacts with other countries.

Pact in Atomic Field Signed

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada and West Germany today signed a 10-year agreement for co-operation in peaceful uses of atomic energy which will be used as a pattern for similar bilateral pacts with other countries.

Under the agreement, West Germany will sign a contract with Eldorado Mining and Refining Limited, crown agency which buys and sells Canadian uranium, for the purchase of 500 tons of the radioactive material.

External Affairs Minister Sidney Smith said the agreement, the first signed with a country other than the United States and Britain, will come into force later this month. Canada has other agreements with the U.S. and Britain covering co-operation in the atomic field.

Oliver Old Folks May Lose Raise

OLIVER—Old age pensioners at the Sunnybank Home in Oliver yesterday protested their nine dollar federal pension hike would be taken away from them by way of a proposed $10 boost in room and board.

Milo Mallory, 81-year-old resident of Sunnybank, told the Herald residents were shocked when Albert Miller, president of the Sunnybank Society, announced that from Dec. 1 they would be paying $75 instead of the previous $65 as was laid down when they entered the home. Mr. Miller says the boost is not yet definite.

"We have been told that Sunnybank will go in the red without the increase and if we don't want to pay then we were welcome to leave," Mr. Mallory stated.

"At the time our feeling was they were taking away our money before we received it." He said the announcement was made Nov. 1, a month before the raise came through from Ottawa.

Harry Lyndon, president of the Senior Citizens' Association and also a board member of the Sunnybank Society, stated, "the society is putting the rope around its own neck."

He said the food consumed in the home is partially donated. "Many of those who provide food, estimated to be approximately half used in the home, have stated they will give no further donations because of this unfair move by the Society."

Ray Young, 81, also a resident in the home, stated the proposed boost would be unfair. "We can't be expected to go out and beg for clothing," he said. "When I came here on March 25 this year I signed an agreement that the rates to be paid would be $65."

As a result of the announcement a resolution has been drawn up to be presented to the Society at their meeting Friday, Mr. Lyndon said. The resolution asks that Social Security be requested to revert to the status quo obligation of paying $12 a month, and those receiving social assistance paying $63 a month at Sunnybank.

He said this was brought about because those receiving social assistance were asked to pay $68 a month and Social Security seven dollars, thus relieving Social Security of an obligation of five dollars a month.

Fined $100 on Impaired Count

Appearing before Magistrate H. J. Jennings in police court today brought a fine of $100 and $4.50 costs to Clarence Oscar Bunes of Penticton when he was convicted on a charge of driving while impaired.

Pleading guilty to a charge of driving without due care and attention brought a $25 fine and $4.50 costs to Wilfred John Morris Owen also of Penticton.

Two men charged with causing a disturbance in a public place brought a total of $3 in fines. Glen Edward Wood of Penticton was fined $20 and $4.50 costs on the charge, and M. Abdullah received a $15 fine and $4.50 costs on the same charge.

TB Carriers Placed in Jail

VANCOUVER (CP)—Three men were arrested Tuesday and placed in jail overnight on a rarely-enforced part of the communicable disease act.

Police said they were arrested on information laid by medical officials that they were carriers of tuberculosis.

They were expected to be transferred today to Tranquille Sanatorium.

Warning Given on Employment State

LONDON (CP)—Canadian immigration authorities in London said today that Britons planning to emigrate are given "ample warning" of winter employment conditions in Canada.

They were commenting on a letter from a Vancouver woman to The Daily Telegraph saying it is "grossly misleading" for immigration authorities in Britain to continue giving the impression that immigrants will have no difficulty in finding work.

Brenda M. Filewood writes that the "tremendous influx" of immigrants last summer was far more than Canada could absorb. "All have arrived under the impression that they are coming to a land of plenty. They are sadly disillusioned within a few days."

GET WINTER WARNING
Gordon Cumming, head of the Canadian immigration service in the United Kingdom, said his department always tries to discourage prospective emigrants from arriving during the winter months when seasonal unemployment is high.

Emigrants received verbal warnings during interviews and a printed brochure warning of the dangers of winter unemployment.

RCMP are investigating.

CALGARY BYLAW MAY END

School Tattoo Fad

CALGARY (CP)—The tattoo fad among Calgary teenagers apparently has been ended by preparation of a new city bylaw.

However, an estimated 20 high school boys, most of them between 13 and 15, are left with an assortment of tattooed eagles, roses, dragons, hearts and daggers—or the ugly brown skin stains that remain after costly attempts to remove them.

The fad was discovered last week after one alarmed parent reported his son had arrived home with both arms tattooed—four tattoos, in all.

The city children's aid department began its own investigation and turned up what superintendent Hiram Coulter described as a "fairly widespread practice, with at least a dozen and possibly more young lads disfigured by tattoos."

Monday night, city council, after hearing Mr. Coulter's protest, that there was no legislation to prevent such a fad, gave final reading to a bylaw it hopes will stop the practice.

MUST BE LICENSED
The bylaw provides that all tattoo artists must be licensed by the city, and that any person under 18 can be tattooed without design.

WHO WOULDN'T JOIN THE NAVY?

Leading Wren Rosalene Auger and Able Seaman Hugh Ross are in Penticton today and tomorrow inviting Penticton young men and women to join the Royal Canadian Navy. If the beaming smiles are anything to go by sailors Auger and Ross have no complaints about the life of the modern sailor. All you have to do, says Seaman Ross, is fill out this form.

Canada's Basic Trend to Growth

"There is every reason to be optimistic about the long-term outlook for Canada and, in short term, elements of stability should be sources of reassurance," said Neil J. McKinnon, President, addressing the 91st Annual Meeting of The Canadian Bank of Commerce.

WHEN we met a year ago the economic atmosphere both at home and abroad was one of boom. There were on all sides demands pressing too heavily on available supplies of materials and labour with the inevitable consequence of marked upward pressure on prices.

The economic environment of to-day is in noticeable contrast to the strained atmosphere of a year ago. The Gross National Product began to level off about mid-year and for the full year probably will not greatly exceed the 1956 level. Wholesale prices early in the year developed a declining tendency and this trend seems now to be gradually reflected in consumer prices which recently have lost most of their upward impetus. Evidence of the changed pace of the economy is also to be seen in reduced freight car loadings, a cut-back in petroleum production to under one half of capacity, a lessened rate of growth in consumption of electric energy and a lowered volume of industrial production. The value of shipments to external markets so far somewhat exceeds that in the corresponding period of last year. Consumer expenditures continue at a high level although there is some indication that the pace of increase is lessening. While the number of unemployed has increased in a year when the labour force has shown a marked increase, employment continues at a higher level than last year.

THERE has emerged during the year clear evidence of a condition that has been building up for some time but which had been concealed by demands for abnormally rapid industrial expansion and government stock-piling: a situation in which capacity is equal to and in many cases in excess of current effective demand for all forms of consumer and capital goods and services. Prices of many commodities which are freely traded in world markets declined noticeably in midsummer, partly due to increasing production in relation to demand and partly due to a reversal of the stock-piling policies of other governments reflected in sales contrasted to purchases. Some other commodities, the prices of which have been maintained by government support, have also shown weakness, as not all governments have been able to hold the stock-piles which their domestic pricing policies have generated. This is most noticeably true of the United States in its international disposal policies for agricultural products.

The accumulating evidence suggests that 1958 will mark the fourth time since the end of the Second World War that the Canadian economy will have passed through a period of significant adjustment. Each of these occasions differs from the others in pattern and in degree. The first in 1946 represented the transition both domestically and internationally from war to peace-time conditions; the second in 1949 reflected some slackening in the initial post-war expansion followed by new stresses on the economy generated by the Korean conflict; the third in 1954 witnessed temporary adjustments in production and consumption. We have come through another upswing with many gains. The buoyant months of 1955 and 1956 have culminated in a high plateau for the economy in 1957. Although statistical indications identify the recent experience as a levelling-off process the plateau is rather uneven: in some cases declines are taking place while in others there continues to be a steady if unspectacular advance. We now appear to be entering a period of consolidation following this period of rapid expansion during the past two years.

DURING periods of this kind there are always doubts and misgivings about the future. This has been the case in the several previous readjustments since the end of the Second World War. Although from the author's point of view there is probably no venture quite as profitless as an attempt to forecast the future there is no reason why we should not address ourselves to the year 1958 and consider some of the major factors influencing the economy. The three principal ones which must be kept under scrutiny are export trade, new capital investment and consumer expenditure.

In the case of external trade, although the price of a number of raw materials has declined and to a degree the terms of trade have turned against Canada, the aggregate dollar value of exports still holds up well,

The future trend depends on the level of economic activity in other nations and especially in the United States. Although there are indications of reduction in export demand for some products, enlarged shipments of others may well cushion a decline. As exports last year exceeded $4,800,000,000 and imports exceeded $5,700,000,000 in relation to a Gross National Product of nearly $30,000,000,000, it is evident how important external trade is to domestic activity.

The total capital investment for 1957 is estimated to approach $8.7 billion, an increase of $800 million over 1956 and $2.3 billion over 1955. There are some indications that the total capital investment for 1958 will not be as great but this year's total at more than 28% of Gross National Product is a very high one indeed and is at a level which could not reasonably be expected to be maintained. Although the composition of capital investment will change, the total for 1958 will undoubtedly be a very large one by comparison with any year prior to 1956.

Consumer expenditures, which represent nearly two-thirds of the Gross National Product, continue at a high level although the pace of increase has slackened. This total is governed not only by available income but by spending attitudes. Aggregate earned income currently appears to be running at a higher level than a year ago while the ratio of consumer debt to income is slightly reduced.

Canadians have in recent years shown a marked disposition to spend. In 1954 for example, consumer expenditures rose continuously at a time when there was a noticeable easing in other categories of expenditures. Between 1955 and 1956 consumer expenditures increased by more than 8% and in the early quarters of 1957 this rise was continued but at a slower rate. It is likely that the final figures for the year will show a levelling-off but that we shall enter 1958 with a level of consumer expenditures considerably above any year prior to 1957.

Looking further to the future, probably one of the significant influences on the amount of gross private investment is the level of corporation profits. Gross private investment has an importance much greater than its actual dollar size. It not only represents the plans and aspirations of all business but also contributes to personal income without in the first instance adding a corresponding amount of consumer goods or services to the production side of national transactions. This year has witnessed a shrinkage in the profit margins of a number of industries. Investment plans are, of course, made in anticipation of adequate earnings on the investment and when the prospects are not promising such plans are likely to be deferred. Many industries are facing conditions of rising costs while selling prices under competitive pressures cannot be raised. Business in such a position finds it necessary to concentrate on stabilizing costs rather than on giving thought to further expansion. If prospects are inimical to enlarged investment there is a diminution in one of the important sources of employment of labour.

IN dollar terms, private expenditures for new industrial and commercial buildings, and for equipment, have more than doubled since 1950. During 1957, non-residential construction continued to increase while expenditures on machinery and equipment showed some signs of easing a little. In housing a revival has been in progress since about mid-year. It is doubtful if outlays on new houses and apartments this year will exceed 85% of the unusually high level attained in 1956 but this will still represent a very high rate of housing expenditure.

Government expenditures on goods and services which cover about a billion dollars of public investment—mostly in construction—have continued to increase over their 1956 level. As governments are spending in the aggregate about one dollar in six on behalf of the taxpayers, it can be seen that public programmes hold an important place in the economic as well as the political field. The portion of public investment which goes into roads, schools, public utilities and into urban transportation facilities is one of the important influences in the economy. Because of this there is fully as important an economic as political significance in the deliberations of the councils charged with settling the primary fiscal relations between our three levels of government.

Although many natural resource and industrial developments required massive amounts of capital, which could only come from foreign sources, the incidence of taxation and the high rate of consumption which are prominent aspects of the welfare state tend to lessen capital accumulation—particularly the kind of capital that is apt to be venturesome. In a nation such as Canada, which did not previously possess a large and mobile reservoir of capital, this condition meant that a very large part of our development, if it was to take place at all, had to be financed by foreign investment which carried with it increasing ownership of sources of production. The past few years have shown a continuance of this pattern in our foreign balance of payments. Although Canada's foreign trade shows a large deficit on merchandise account, the Canadian dollar remains at a premium due to a still larger net inflow of capital. A less assuring part of current trade lies in the fact that although a large part of our imports is in capital goods which will add to future production, an increasing amount is in consumer goods. In other words, we are using imported capital which carries a continuing obligation to service in order to finance part of our current consumption. This is like a man borrowing to finance day-to-day living costs and, as we all know, there is a limit beyond which that cannot be continued.

A source of unemployment during 1957 was in those Canadian industries which depend on forest products. Here, too, exports have tapered off sharply, although the long-term outlook remains favourable.

Unemployment appeared in manufacturing, where durable goods production over a wide range of products began falling off early in 1957. This decline in what had been a buoyant industry can be attributed in an important degree to the premium on the Canadian dollar which has subsidized imports and served to displace both domestic production and employment. Perhaps under the changed economic outlook which we are facing, it would be reasonable to expect the monetary authorities to exercise through the market an influence on the international value of the monetary unit to minimize this handicap both to domestic producers and to export industries.

THERE has been much public discussion about monetary policy as reflected in money supply and interest rates and its influence on the economy and it is important to understand its limitations. While it is true that a restriction in supply of money available can limit expenditures it must be recognized that it is the expenditures themselves and not the money supply that are directly linked to the volume of output and employment. Under conditions of declining demand and lowered expenditures money supply tends to be a neutral element, adequate and willing to support an upswing but powerless in itself to create it. It may not be inappropriate to add that there has been a great deal of unjustified and uninformed criticism of what has been described as tight money over the past two years. There may well be differences of view as to the timing, nature and degree of monetary influences exerted by the authorities but one thing is clear: if all the money had been made available for which there was a demand there would have been nothing said about tight money but there would have been much more vocal and much more justified criticisms of sharply rising prices.

THE year now closing has established a Gross National Product of more than $30 billion and we have had three years of unprecedented advances in real output. We cannot expect to maintain this rapid pace every year but a period of consolidation should not blind us to our basic inclination to growth. Not only does our developing and under-populated country equipped with rich natural resources have a basic inclination to grow but this bias is being continually reinforced with new sources of energy—hydro-electric power, petroleum, natural gas and in the years to come nuclear energy for which Canada is a storehouse of vast quantities of uranium. People too provide individual energy and creative resourcefulness and this is fully as true of immigrants as of the natural increase in population. By no means the least among the influences toward growth is the generation of new products in increasing variety developed through scientific research—most of it conducted in larger and more mature economies. It is true, but from which we gain benefit. Such things in recent years as synthetic fibres, plastics and electronics are examples not only of new products but of new industries.

There is every reason to be optimistic about the long-term outlook for Canada and in the short term there are elements of stability which should be sources of reassurance. If, however, we are to achieve increase in production and in per capita output and wealth we shall have to pay close attention to providing the economic climate and incentives for hard constructive and creative work, whether it be done through individual or corporate activity and enterprise.

J. P. R. Wadsworth, General Manager, reviewed the balance sheet, highlights of which are summarized, and said in part:

The ninety-first annual statement shows total assets to have reached an all-time high at $2,581,695,000, an increase of $146,781,000 over the record figure for last year. Deposits grew to a new high of $2,406,843,000, an increase of $127,746,000. Personal savings increased by $53,476,000 and now total $1,166,237,000. These figures become more meaningful when it is realized that the Bank serves more than two million personal and business customers in 765 offices from Newfoundland to British Columbia and in addition 12 branches are operated abroad.

Commercial and other loans, at $1,060,272,000 decreased by $8,608,000. Loans in Canada rose while loans outside Canada declined. In the administration of the Bank's lending business, it has been and continues to be our policy to serve the worthy and constructive needs of borrowing customers both small and large, provided they meet our standards of sound quality.

The number of shareholders increased from 17,231 to 18,373 and the number of shares outstanding from 3,750,000 to 4,500,000.

Twenty-four new branches were opened in Canada and we have established a new branch at Nassau and a second branch in London, England, in Berkeley Square.

A report to the shareholders would not be complete without a sincere expression of appreciation to all members of the Bank's personnel. The results have been accomplished through a team effort in which each member has had a part to play. Changing conditions have required an increasing amount of individual resourcefulness on the part of branch managers and officers.

I would also like to mention the important role played by the women in the Bank, and the increasing responsibilities that are being assumed by many of them. The part that they play is an important one and over the years to come they will undoubtedly assume greater responsibilities in the operation of the Bank's affairs.

The steady growth and development of the Bank provide ever increasing opportunities for the able young man who wishes to make banking his career. Be he a high school or college graduate there are increasing opportunities and such a young man will find that a banking career is rewarding not only in a tangible way, but in a sense of personal accomplishment. The profession presents a challenge to the young man who wants to work and take advantage of opportunities that are afforded to study and to learn on the way up.

KURT SCHNEIDER, ONE-ARMED CABINET MAKER

PEOPLE WE MEET

Cabinet Maker Loses Arm But Not Courage

By LEN WALKER

It's a real inspiration to meet an individual who hasn't let several hard knocks from Dame Fortune keep him down. Such a person is Kurt Schneider, a man of courage, faith and determination.

Less than three months ago Mr. Schneider lost his left arm in an auto accident. It was only one of many misfortunes that have befallen him since coming from his native Germany to Canada six and a half years ago.

Not one to sit and brood, Mr. Schneider has rehabilitated himself and has once again taken up his trade of cabinet maker, working with one arm.

Mr. Schneider's story is similar to that of Ripley's, "Believe It or Not" item on Richard Oliver, a one-armed man who built his own home at Independence, Kan. At the Schneider home, 452 Young Street, most of the furniture has been built in recent weeks by the handicapped owner. "The load has been made much easier to carry because of my trust in the Lord and because we have been able to shove pride in our pockets and accept charity," Mr. Schneider commented. Pentecostites have been both kind and encouraging.

Mr. Schneider showed how he has been able, through careful planning, to cut down on extra work while building. For example, to cut the lumber for a sewing box, presently under construction, the saw would normally have to be changed 20 times. By planning ahead he was able to get the work done with half the number of changes.

Now that the furniture for his own home is nearing completion, Mr. Schneider hopes to start a business of his own. Using his own styling he will build any type of furniture needed, including bedroom suites, he said.

A stickler for detail he pointed out various of his products in the house. One finds it hard to believe that they were not manufactured by a large firm. Mr. Schneider learned his trade in the school of hard knocks in Germany where he also learned bricklaying.

Recalling his misfortunes, Mr. Schneider said that after working in both Winnipeg and Regina on housing construction he found himself unemployed and decided to come to Penticton.

Arriving in the city on Sept. 1 and failing to find employment, he planned to leave for the coast Sept. 18. One day earlier disaster struck.

While he and his wife were driving on Highway 97 near Skaha Lake the steering mechanism suddenly failed to function sending their half-ton truck out of control and causing it to partially overturn. Mr. Schneider's arm was pinned beneath the running board of the vehicle.

After having the arm amputated, he remained in hospital for 14 days. He returned to hospital Oct. 17 for a second operation and was released on the 21st. It was just 12 days later he began building a cabinet.

Slight Damage In Car-Train Collision Here
An auto-train accident at the railway crossing on Vancouver Avenue in Penticton at 6:55 p.m. Tuesday caused slight damage to a car driven by Robert Vagg of Penticton. There was no injury to the driver.

Mr. Vagg reported he was driving a vehicle owned by Len Haywood of Penticton when it skidded, swung sideways and rammed into a slow-moving train.

The vehicle was well off the road among trees in a fold of the hills.

Mr. Hutton said he first noticed the truck some days ago and became suspicious after seeing it in the same place for several days. He investigated Monday afternoon, found the truck apparently abandoned, and reported the matter to the local RCMP.

The truck has been towed into Oliver for fingerprinting and further investigation by the police.

Four Fined For Cutting Trees

SUMMERLAND — Four men were found guilty yesterday in police court here, of cutting, scaling and transporting Christmas trees on Crown land behind Garrett Valley dam.

Magistrate Bob Alstead fined Andrew Torok $150 and costs or 60 days in jail. Lewis Torok, Steve Cizile and Michael Bohus were each fined $25 and costs or 10 days in jail. All four are recent arrivals in Canada from Hungary.

The trees, 800 in all, were confiscated by the B.C. Forest Service. Also appearing before Magistrate Alstead was James Brown of Penticton who was fined $15 and costs for operating a motor vehicle without a proper licence. Edward Ouellette of Cranbrook was remanded for trial on a charge of theft involving a value of more than $50.

Centennial Project Started at Osoyoos

OSOYOOS — A start has been made on the Osoyoos Centennial project with the awarding of the contract for the first stage of the bath house building to Petrin & Sons of Osoyoos, at a price of $2,576.79. This was the lowest of two bids received, the other being nearly double.

The first stage contract calls for all footings, outside walls, division walls, and pillars, all of which will be concrete. The walls will be of concrete block.

The building to be 50 feet by 24 feet, will be divided to house both men's and women's changing and lavatory facilities.

The first sod for the building's construction was turned by pioneer Val Haynes, son of the first Vera's sister Anne won the provincial cancer essay contest last year.

Vera Mary Clemens is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Clemens of Osoyoos.

Find Stolen Truck at Oliver

OLIVER — A Bassett's Transfer truck, stolen from Penticton a week ago, has been recovered here.

Oliver's fire chief, Chester Hutton, reported seeing the truck hidden among pine trees on the Indian Reserve east of Tuc-el-nuit Lake.

Mr. Hutton said he first noticed the truck some days ago and became suspicious after seeing it in the same place for several days. He investigated Monday afternoon, found the truck apparently abandoned, and reported the matter to the local RCMP.

The vehicle was well off the road among trees in a fold of the hills.

Trout Creek Electrical Capacity to Be Tripled

SUMMERLAND — The Trout Creek electricity system is to be changed over from 4,700 volts to 8,000 volts, increasing the capacity three times. This was decided at Tuesday afternoon's council meeting on the recommendation of Councillor E. M. Tait, chairman of the electrical department.

M. A. Thomas and Associates, electrical consulting engineers at the coast, are to be asked to prepare working plans and estimate the cost for the council.

It is understood that the West Kootenay Power Co. is putting in two new transformers next year and Councillor Tait thought that this was the time to increase power in the rapidly growing Trout Creek area. G. S. Smith, municipal clerk, will write to the company, asking for discussion of the matter.

Mr. Tait felt that the Trout Creek situation is not so serious that it cannot carry on for part of next year until changes can be made. He said that any particular spot needing attention could be remedied temporarily by Councillor W. B. Powell, a member of the electrical committee, agreed.

Alternatives were to increase the size of wire to Trout Creek for some years to come, depending on how quickly the district is built up. This would cost an estimated $8,000 for wire plus labour.

A regulator could be put in, which would be a temporary alleviation, too. A used regulator could be purchased from the

Electrical Heating Quite Satisfactory

SUMMERLAND — Electrical heat has proven satisfactory in the municipal hall at West Summerland during the four winters it has been in operation.

The hall is one of the few public buildings in this country to be electrically heated. At the time of construction it was the first public building in Canada to be heated by electricity.

Summerland municipality features low cost electricity and by heating its municipal hall this way, it practises what it preaches.

VICTORIA (CP) — Evans Loughheed of Penticton Monday was elected president of the Hotel Operators and Innkeepers' Society of B.C. at the annual meeting here.

It's Safer to Buy Christmas Trees

It will be safer and easier to buy your Christmas tree instead of cutting one yourself.

The Forestry Service announced Tuesday it is going to check unauthorized Christmas tree cutting very carefully this year.

The only way a person can acquire a tree by cutting it is to first obtain written permission from the owner of the land where the tree is growing. Those going to this trouble must make sure they are carrying the permission with them because there will be roadblocks to check on cars and trucks carrying trees.

The government will not issue any cutting permits on crown lands.

"The best advice," said a forestry official, "is to buy your tree from a Christmas tree stand."

200 Attend Pensioners' Xmas Banquet

Approximately 200 old age pensioners and guests including members of city council attended the second annual senior citizens' Christmas banquet in the Legion Hall Tuesday afternoon.

Donations for the meal which saw 160 pounds of turkey consumed were given by various merchants and wholesalers of the city.

Wives of city council members were responsible for the decorations and the ladies of the Legion Auxiliary catered.

After the welcome by president H. Oke and the response by Mayor Charles Oliver, toasts were proposed by Mrs. E. Armstrong, Mrs. E. W. Unwin, Mrs. G. Knight and Mrs. C. K. Brown.

Responses to the toasts were given by F. X. Richter, M.L.A.; Rev. S. McGladdery, Ald. F. P. McPherson and H. Oke.

Rev. E. Rands gave the blessing.

PUBLIC MEETING

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 13, 1957 — 8 p.m.

HOTEL PRINCE CHARLES

Speaker — MR. J. G. SPROULE, Vancouver, B.C.

Subject — "Our God Hath Not Forsaken Us"

FOR FAIR PLAY

The undersigned, who are a few of the supporters of Mr. C. E. Oliver and who believe in fair play wish, through the medium of the press or other means, to protest against the most unfair and prejudiced manner which was used by the press and radio to report the civic meeting held in the School Auditorium.

We are supporters of Mr. Oliver because it is our opinion that since he was elected mayor a few months ago, he has saved the taxpayers considerable money and that, due to his qualifications and experience, will continue to do so when re-elected.

We take particular exception to the report by the local press, Vancouver Sun, and radio that, "500 leave meeting as Oliver talks overtime". This is untrue, as immediately after the speaking time allotted to him, he had the courtesy to wait for any questions which might be put to the chair and which was in accordance with the notice advertising the meeting.

Record Vote Forecast as Candidates Seek Office

The keen interest shown in this year's civic elections gives us cause to hope for a record vote tomorrow.

All candidates running for office surely deserve such a vote so that whoever wins can take his seat in the council chamber with full confidence.

A great deal of controversy has arisen during the past few days encouraging us to believe that many people who do not normally use their franchise will this year cast their ballot for one or another. It would be too much to dream of a 100 per cent turnout of voters, but we do anticipate the highest vote ever recorded in the city.

Russian Silence Serves as a Warning

It has been said the United States would have been wiser had it remained silent regarding its satellite launching program until the baby-sized spunk was circling the globe. By following such a program they could have saved the nation and the free world a great deal of embarrassment—but they would have betrayed one of the most important factors in a democratic way of life. The people have a right to know just what is going on and to know the success or failure of the men who guide their destiny.

In Russia the people are not informed. This was never more obvious than during the weeks preceding the launching of the Soviet scientists' first satellite, for it is impossible to believe that scientists, even of their undisputed calibre, built and launched such a satellite without a single hitch.

Alberta Government Hits Phony Sales Talk

By DON HARRIS, Canadian Press Staff Writer

EDMONTON (CP)—Consumers in Alberta may have heard the last of phony fire sales, misleading advertisements, bargains that aren't legitimate and even that old line, "I can get it for you wholesale."

These and other shady deals are prohibited in the Alberta government's new Fair Competition Code that applies to the 10,000 odd retail outlets in Alberta. Retailers convicted of infractions can be fined up to $500 and lose their licences to sell.

Such phrases as "money-back guarantee" may be used by merchants "only where a cash refund will be made without any form of deduction and without any further qualification unless specified in the advertisement."

Some Alberta stores—appliance dealers, for example—had been giving guarantees with television sets. If the customer returns a defective set two weeks later, he is charged two weeks' "rent."

Advertised merchandise must be on hand or readily available in "sufficient quantities to supply reasonable consumer demand." If supplies are limited, the ad must say so.

No longer can a merchant advertise a bargain price on a commodity when he intends to sell only one or two scratched-up models at the advertised price and advertise principally to draw buyers to his premises.

Another section of the code stipulates that no retailer may purchase merchandise from a wholesaler "other than for the purpose of bona fide resale to customers." Exceptions are made for the retailer's employees and family.

"We feel that getting this new code accepted is a major accomplishment and a great benefit to all retailers," says association President H. A. Fairbairn.

"We believe it will entirely eliminate false and misleading advertising. It is also designed to

DIVORCE, OR TEMPORARY SEPARATION?

INTERPRETING THE NEWS

Political Chaos a Threat to Indonesia

By MURRAY FROMSON

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP)—Beset by threats of bankruptcy and political chaos, Indonesia now is clearly divided into Communist and anti-Communist camps.

Responsible sources just returned from Jakarta say that for the second time since 1948, the Communists are in a position to envelop the country in civil war.

Although the Reds failed in a rebellion nine years ago, there is no certainty that they would fail again—at least on Java. The sources say the best guess is that the Communists could seize control of much of Java now—but they won't.

SEPARATE GOVERNMENT

The reason is simple: They would face isolation because the islands of Sumatra, Borneo, the Celebes and the rest of east Indonesia are prepared to establish a separate Indonesian government the moment the Communists grab power in Java.

Col. Maludin Simbolon, the articulate rebel who now directs a solidifying command of the outer islands from his Sumatran headquarters in Padang, told visiting correspondents:

"This is no longer a revolt to gain autonomy. This is a fight to preserve our freedom and stop communism. The main task of the Communists is to bring control in Java or the central government abandons its neutral foreign policy and invites Soviet or Chinese technicians into the country, we will establish an independent free government of Indonesia and ask for United Nations recognition."

Despite the desperate political and economic conditions which now prevail, there appears to be considerable hope among responsible Indonesians that a way will be found to curb the Communists.

SUKARNO UNAWARE

The big stumbling block apparently is President Sukarno.

"He is like a horse with blinkers," said one observer who had watched him for a considerable period of time. "He plods straight ahead, oblivious to the cold war, the nuclear age, the international threat of communism, and Indonesia's troubles which are going on all around him."

The president insists that the Indonesian Reds are Indonesian first and Communists second and that they can work together with other parties in the government. Other leaders, including some of Sukarno's closest friends and former revolutionary allies, disagree.

They point to the recent statement made by the vice-chairman of the Indonesian Communist party, "There is no such thing as international communism and we all Communists together."

The Nationalist party, which has ridden Sukarno's political coat-tails for years, is faced with an intra-party split. Regional chairmen throughout Java have told party workers to abandon any co-operation with the Communists. There is a growing movement to form an anti-Communist alliance with the Moslem Masjumi, Nahdlatul Ulama and the Socialists. But Nationalist leaders in Jakarta still are hesitating.

The major problem now is to convince Sukarno and to find a way for him to retreat from his present position without losing prestige.

Another big question mark is the army. Several key officers are known to be pro-Communist, but the general tenor is felt to be anti-Communist.

Moslem teachers and priests have agreed to deny religious rites to any Communists. In a recent national conference, they also adopted a resolution calling for the outlawing of the Communist party.

To pacify the outer islands, the Jakarta government has doubled the normal financial allocations to Sumatra. But sources returning from Padang, the headquarters of the outer island rebels, say the Sumatrans boast openly of smuggling 10,000 tons of rubber a month to Singapore. With the money earned, they have launched a seven-year development program to build roads, schools, hospitals and boost agricultural production. Income which Jakarta formerly collected is curtailed just that much more.

On Java, the price of rice—the staple food—rose 70 per cent during the last year and went up 20 per cent during one 10-day period last month. General food prices have jumped 15 per cent in the last two months. Ten-per-cent pay raises for 800,000 government workers have been virtually wiped out by this inflation.

Money is losing its value. The government's increase of notes from the printing office jumped eight per cent between July and November.

The Communists would inherit these headaches if they seized power on Java now. Without the vast natural wealth of the outer islands to draw on, they know Java would be more of a liability than a gain.

Newfoundland to Lose Christmas Mummings

By IAN MACDONALD, Canadian Press Staff Writer

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—The mummings are disappearing in Newfoundland and with them go a lot of warm traditions that once filled 12 days at Christmas.

And the mummings will continue to fade away—except perhaps in Labrador—until Newfoundland's Christmas celebrations become a copy of those in mainland centres.

Nurtured in Medieval England, the mummings were bands of men and women who dressed in fantastic clothes, wore masks and paraded through the streets during Christmas and other festive holidays.

HISTORIC RITUAL

The ritual was brought to Newfoundland with the early settlers. When the mummings visited, outport residents turned their houses over to them. "Come-dine" singers entertained and a fiddler sawed off old tunes like Sir Roger, the reels and the collins.

Rum was passed around and the fishermen spun tales about their adventures on the Grand Banks. All the stories started with "I mind the time when..."

Those who frowned on the strong rum would settle for a glass of home-made blueberry wine, still found on many Newfoundland Christmas tables.

People who had quarrelled during the year shook hands and settled down to a dinner of fresh pork, plum pudding and shelled nuts. Another favorite was a six-foot string of fish brought from the West Indies by fishing schooners.

TRADITIONAL LOG

Pork is still a favorite Christmas dish in many outports, although it has been replaced by turkey or chicken in the larger centres.

Building the Christmas fire was an art. The black junk, as the log was called, was a large tree selected and trimmed days in advance. It had to burn for 12 days.

Outsize pots and kettles were suspended from a crane in the fire-place. The kitchen was also the living room. The floor was usually covered with fresh sawdust or sand from the beach. Two high-backed benches, called settles, were placed on each side of the fireplace and here the fishermen and the mummings sat to tell stories and sing.

On Christmas morning the outporters would rise and breakfast on fish—their big meal came later in the day. When the sun finally faded they loaded their flintlock guns with three fingers of powder and fired three or four volleys. The fusillade continued for an hour.

Later that night the men would stand in the snow and throw a blazing stick over the roof of their homes, to protect them from fire for another year.

OLDTIME BAN

The poor, sick and needy were visited and helped. Often a community would kill a fatted cow, a valuable possession those days, and give the food to a deserving family along with a large supply of cut wood.

Legislation banned the mummings in 1860, amid varied reactions. The Newfoundland Times at that time said "every citizen must be grateful at the proclamation issued by the police magistrates to suppress mummung with its disgusting attendant rioting, drunkenness and profane swearing."

Three years later the Newfoundland Express noted that "the unseemly practise of mummung had been put down and 'our streets have been quieter than we have ever seen them previously at Christmas.'"

The ban, however, did not reach much farther than Conception Bay, so that today the mummings can still be found in many communities, and especially in Labrador.

WHERE CONSERVATION BEGAN

Canada's first step in conservation took place shortly after the British conquest. By a special enactment, the choicest of pine and spruce trees were reserved for use for naval construction.

OTTAWA REPORT

Destiny Beckons Liberals Seek

By PATRICK NICHOLSON, Special Correspondent to the Herald

OTTAWA—Destiny will urgently beckoned Prime Minister John Diefenbaker, when he leads Canada's delegation at the "summit meeting" of the North Atlantic allies in Paris next week.

The opportunity—and the duty—will be his, to give that meeting a lead towards new policies, policies which would revitalize prospects for the Western World, and which would write his name large in the history books.

It is widely recognized that, unless some leader does point a new way, we will all go stumbling along the proved path of tragedy. And that path is surely leading us towards a darkness which would smother freedom throughout the world for a thousand years.

For the truth about the Western and Free World is that its only shield, the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, is falling to pieces. Experts in all the allied nations admit that NATO will disintegrate, if it is allowed to continue its present aimless drift through 1958.

The communist leaders in the Kremlin will then have won their chief objective of the Cold War, which is to break up our collective security system. And we in the West will then be ripe to be bitten off plumb by plumb by the Red Wolf.

A DREAM TURNED SOUR

The statesman who conceived the North Atlantic Alliance envisaged it as a club of freedom-loving democracies, whose peoples would be willing to make in unison those sacrifices necessary to ensure our joint defence. Those same statesmen quickly realized that the cost of defence in the new global scientific warfare comes high, costing plenty in materials, brains and manpower. We would have to cooperate generously and wholeheartedly to strengthen all our economies, to enable each nation to support that huge economic burden voluntarily. But instead of making this effort, we lapsed into economic rivalries which have sapped our own and our allies' strength.

And the almighty dollar of private enterprise competed successfully with the tax dollar of national defence. It wooed, to the higher-paid work designing new model kitchen gadgets, the brains which might otherwise have been creating a Western artificial moon.

Russia's proven scientific leadership is a sensational new field has scared the smugness even out of those damn-yankee traders. So Washington now proclaims the need for "interdependence," after a fruitless decade in which she has practised simultaneously both military partnership and economic warfare with us and with her other "allies." And insular isolated Britain admits that isolation is no longer enough for her.

Our previous effort in the Cold War has not been good enough. The NATO nations must immediately stop this farce of being part-time allies. We must all prove to ourselves and to the uncommitted nations that democratic freedom can offer a dramatic counter-attraction to the communist way of life. All our leaders say this now, but none of them set the example to do it.

From the big capitals of the Western Big Three, frail men with frail support are giving frail leadership. They are hated and suspected by their allies, on grounds of double-dealing, economic greed and imperialist ambitions.

But nobody suspects Canada of these things; so what. Canada says in international councils is needed. The route we should now all take was blundered by Canada eight years ago; it has repeatedly and again recently been endorsed by such statesmen as Prime Minister Diefenbaker and Nobel Prize man Pearson; the trail now needs to be blazing, at next week's summit meeting.

There lies Mr. Diefenbaker's path to his date with destiny.

THE HOLIDAY ENSEMBLE

Lovely dresses, some draped, others following the ever-popular lines of the sheath, will grace many Christmas parties this season. Neck interest is highlighted in the two shown above. The one to the left with its front drape accented by a large flat bow, favors a deep V to the front and back, while the smartly styled sheath has a shoulder-wide square neckline. These pretty holiday frocks are sleeveless and are worn with pumps in the pointed-toe variety.

Shingle is Newest Paris Hair Style

BY NORA W. MARTIN
PARIS — The latest headline in Paris is a shingle without a bob.

Its main characteristic is a helmet-like smoothness and its outstanding quality is flattery and suitability to practically any features.

Called "baby-star" by its creator, Carita Alexandre of Paris, this new style makes any curly, urchin or flowing hairdo look "old hat". The Duchess of Windsor already wears the new smooth hairdo. The difference between the shingle bob of the 1920's and the new "baby-star" style is that the hair is much longer at the nape of the neck but curves up to just cover the ears on both sides.

And here is how Mademoiselle Maria Carita shapes neck-length hair into the new smooth helmet style.

She cuts the wet hair to a clean line from four-fingers below the hairline at the nape of the neck to two fingers below each ear on either side. She uses pin-curlers of one inch diameter. Three are rolled tight on top of the head facing the back. Two curlers on each side are rolled facing down and the three at the back are also rolled down.

After 50 minutes under the dryer, the pin-curlers are undone and the hair brushed back on top and above the temples but again forward on both sides to cover the ears and form "spit-curls" on the cheeks.

MARY HAWORTH'S MAIL

Wife Shudders at Ancestral Name

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: My husband's name is perfectly ghastly. In fact I still shudder to use it for my own. He is the third in the family line to bear the name—although few of his friends ever call him by it. Mostly it is a legal and business signature.

Now we are anxiously awaiting our first child. And should it be a boy, my husband insists he "carry on" the family name as a tribute to his late grandfather whom he worshipped. But I object for several reasons.

I dislike the name so intensely that it would be a constant affront to my feelings to raise a son thus named. It would mean that we would have to coin a nickname for the child—as was done for my husband, his father and his grandfather. (In fact my husband prefers to be known by his nickname.)

WHY NAME BABES FOR ANCESTORS?
Most of all, I consider it unfair of parents to hang an archaic name on a child and label him for life because of somebody long dead. I consider it particularly selfish when the name is obviously out of the past—an ancient echo, in a new age.

My husband and I have debated this many times, and each debate has ended in a draw. The tragedy is that neither of us wants to hurt or disappoint the other; yet neither can we concede, feeling as strongly as we do. Even attempts at compromise fail.

I've suggested keeping part of the family name, using it as a middle name for a son. But Jack insists, and I see his point, that there's no sense using any part of the grandfather's name unless we use it all. Of course we might very well have only girls; and friends suggest we wait and see. But we want the matter settled now, before the baby's here. Can you propose a solution, one way or the other?

C. Y.

NAME LINKED TO CHARACTER
DEAR C. Y.: I suppose a case might be made for pooh-poohing this debate as ridiculous. And of course, one could be trite and recall the poet's exclamation: "What's in a name? A rose by any other name would smell as sweet."

And yet I've heard a great psychiatric specialist say that names have profound significance; that the name of a person or thing enters into his (or its) character, somehow. (Didn't the ancient seers believe this too?)

If you turn to the glossary of "Common English Christian names" usually to be found in the appendix section of Webster's dictionary, you will see that many of these names are linked to synonymous meanings. As for example: Patrick—noble, a patrician. David—beloved. Sophia—wisdom. And so on.

Also the practise in the Christian community of conferring saints' names upon children at baptism or confirmation suggests an innate religious sense (or intuitive cognition) in mankind, that names relate to qualities or states of being.

NAME A CHILD FOR HIMSELF
Thus I for one am inclined to respect your urgent conviction that a child's name is a vitally important consideration, and that should be reckoned as such, in launching him in life. And that he shouldn't be saddled with an intrinsically "ghastly" moniker, just because a valiant ancestor managed to bear it with distinction.

Maybe the ugly name was the notable ancestor's special cross. But why, therefore, visit it on a great grandchild, whose hair-shirt assignment may be of a different sort, in the grand design of the universe?

It strikes me as a bankrupt form of snobbery, to keep repeating so-called family names, generation after generation—in implicit insistence that one's ancestors were somebody, away back when. More to the point is what's being accomplished by said forebear's descendants by the here-and-now. If one must boast by inference, why not cleave to the present reality?

And if the present admits of nothing to boast about, why not just let the whole subject drop? If your firstborn is a son, name him for himself—for the qualities and opportunities that your best hopes would wish for him.

M. H.

Check Table Linens in Preparation For Holiday Dinners and Tea Parties

BY ELEANOR ROSS

At the holiday feast, the tablecloth is the background, the foil for sparkling china, glassware, silver and colorful centerpiece, so it must look really beautiful.

LOOK AHEAD
If you haven't looked at your best cloth lately, it might be a good idea to do so before the festivities begin. White cloths sometimes take on a yellowish tinge and need bleaching. Lace cloths have a tendency to get rumpled around the edges and need dampening in order to be smoother out to perfection.

Let's hope you remembered last time you used your best cloth, to inspect it for stains—and that you did something about them before putting it away. You just can't let stains set and then expect them to wash out easily next time you need the linens. You might keep that in mind after Christmas dinner, this year.

FOOD STAINS
Most food stains will come out with little trouble if they are tackled as soon as possible after the meal. Washing the cloth in suds is usually successful, but spot-treating the linens first is just common sense.

Fruit stains should be treated with hot water. Just pour boiling water from the kettle over each spot, then wash the entire piece of linen as you normally would. Scrape off any candle drippings with a dull-edged knife before putting the fabric in the laundry.

HOUSEHOLD HINT
First aid for ripping upholstery can be provided with ordinary adhesive or plastic tape. Insert it sticky-side-up and press the fibers down on it.

TREAT THE CANDLES
Better yet, treat your candles so that they won't drip at all and thus spare yourself one of the common holiday annoyances.

This is easy to do. Well ahead of dinner time, work up a sudsy lather between your palms and roll the candle around in your hands. This film will soon dry and prevent messy drippings when candles are lighted.

As for other stains, a smart housekeeper will keep a stain-removal chart handy in her kitchen or laundry files which she can quickly refer to when the need arises. Goodness knows, it happens often during the holiday season.

Decorative and delicious

As dainty and decorative a treat as you can make to grace a table... and so delicious, too! Use Fleischmann's Active Dry Yeast for all your home baking... You'll find it easy to work with and so dependable!

Fetal Buns

1. Measure into bowl 1 cup lukewarm water. Stir in 1 tablespoon granulated sugar. Sprinkle with contents of 3 envelopes Fleischmann's Active Dry Yeast. Let stand 10 minutes, THEN stir well.
2. Meanwhile, cream until soft ½ cup butter or margarine. Gradually blend in ½ cup granulated sugar. Add, part at a time, beating well after each addition 4 well-beaten eggs. Stir in dissolved yeast and 3 cups once-sifted all-purpose flour and beat until smooth and elastic. Work in an additional 2½ cups (about) once-sifted all-purpose flour.
3. Turn out on lightly-floured board and knead into a smooth ball. Place in greased bowl and brush with melted butter or margarine. Cover. Let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour.
4. Punch down dough. Divide into 3 equal pieces; roll each piece into an 8-inch square. Spread each square with 1 tablespoon soft butter or margarine and then with thick raspberry jam. Roll up as for jelly roll and cut into eight 1-inch pieces. Place in greased muffin pans and cut an X in each bun with a pair of scissors. Brush buns with melted butter or margarine. Cover. Let rise until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour. Bake in a moderately hot oven, 375°, about 15 minutes. Yield—24 buns.

St. Ann's Catholic Women's League Will Hold Annual Bazaar Saturday

This year members of St. Ann's Catholic Women's League have chosen the parish hall on Brunswick street and Saturday afternoon from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. for their annual Christmas bazaar and tea. They will also sponsor a turkey bingo that evening commencing at 8 p.m.

Mrs. William Leinweber is general convenor of the bazaar which will feature many interesting and seasonal gift articles, home cooking, candy, sewing, knitted articles and a number of raffles.

Included in the latter attraction are a doll, rug, Indian sweater, leather handbag, an illuminated chapel and a lovely stole donated by Mrs. W. E. Boyd and Mrs. Frank Pecaric of Kaledon. The several circles comprising the league are sponsoring these raffles. The winning tickets will be drawn at 11 p.m. at the conclusion of the bingo.

St. Rita's Circle under the chairmanship of Mrs. Harry Patrick will be in charge of the artistic seasonal decorations planned for the tea tables and bazaar setting.

Mrs. Maurice Finnelly, who has charge of the tea centre, is being assisted by Mrs. W. C. Johnson in planning details of serving and refreshments.

Other members serving as conveners are Mrs. Hugo DuMont, home cooking; Mrs. James Burgart, aprons and needlework; Mrs. Kenneth Almond, pillow slips and embroidery; Mrs. Edward Ackerman, knitting; Mrs. Walter Irwin, surprise packages; Mrs. Michael Stogrand, religious articles; and Miss Annie Pellicano, candy.

PEACHLAND

Valley Interest in Pretty Autumn Rites

Pink and white chrysanthemums decorated the United Church for the pretty autumn wedding of Luella Marie, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Enns of Peachland, to David Dyck of Kelowna, with the Rev. R. H. Norman officiating.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of white nylon tulle with double net overskirt enhanced by a half-skirt which fell to a long point in the back. The molded bodice was covered by a lace jacket with lily point sleeves. Her floor length veil was held in place by a headpiece of pearls and gold sequins. She carried a shower bouquet of red roses and lily-of-the-valley.

Miss Marilyn Inglis, as bridesmaid, wore a full length frock of blue nylon tulle with bouffant net skirt. Her headpiece and bouquet were pink carnations.

The bride's young sister Laura, acted as flower girl. She wore a pink embroidered dress and carried a nosegay of white and pink rosebuds.

The best man was Allen Penner of Kelowna while the groom's brother, Allen Dyck of Kelowna, and Lorne Fleming of Peachland were ushers.

During the signing of the register Mrs. Arne Oltmans sang "Bless This House," accompanied by Mrs. Jeff Todd.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Athletic Hall or the many guests. For the occasion the bride's mother chose a black bengaline suit with blue accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

Centering the bride's table was a three tiered wedding cake flanked by vases of white daisies. Joe Davies proposed the toast to the bride, to which the groom responded, while the best man toasted the bridesmaid.

Fourers were Mrs. Joe Davies and Mrs. Norman Bradbury, Mrs. George Swartz, Mrs. J. Khalembach, Brenda and Claire Leduke and Beverly Bradbury served.

Accessories Add Spice to Fashions

Accessories are the spice of fashion. Shopping for them is a careful business if they are to add just the right flavor to your costume.

A few advance trends should be kept in mind of you want them to be good when spring comes. Shoes particularly will all be the pointed-toe variety, with plenty of ladylike trimming on pumps—tucking, draping, stitching, applique, and for evening, jewelled.

Belts add zip to many costumes and are especially important with the dropped waistline. Look for many fabric shoes too. Handbags are taking on a horizontal shape, of lovely soft leathers, usually matching your shoes. The very latest for late day is the sumptuous cut-velvet handbag.

Latest novelty — the fringed ash of glove leather to be draped and tied as you will. Gloves are more colorful, especially colored leather gloves that wash for daytime.

AROUND TOWN

Friendship Circle Elects 1958 Slate

Mrs. Kenneth Nicolls has been elected to succeed Mrs. C. M. Finnis as president of the Friendship Circle of the Penticton United Women's Federation.

Others chosen for office at the December meeting in the church hall were Mrs. Wilfred Wright, vice-president; Mrs. S. H. Andrews, recording secretary; Mrs. R. L. Smith, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Harry Smith, treasurer.

A short business meeting followed with an enjoyable social hour and light refreshments.

Mrs. Frank Hopkins, noble grand of Redland Rebekah Lodge No. 12, was among those attending a meeting of the Oliver Rebekahs Monday followed by an enjoyable social evening.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Clark and small son Kim are here from Prince George spending the winter as guests at the home of Mrs. Clark's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Lockhart, and are also visiting with Mr. Clark's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon M. Clark.

Elements of Stability In Business Adjustment

TORONTO (CP) — There are many elements of stability which should be sources of reassurance in the present period of business adjustment, Neil J. McKinnon, president of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, said yesterday at the bank's annual meeting.

About the long-term outlook, there was every reason to be optimistic.

This year had established a record gross national product of $30,000,000,000 and there had been three years of unprecedented advance in this rapid pace every year, Mr.

McKinnon said, "but a period of consolidation should not blind us to our basic inclination to growth."

Two-Way Contest For Liberal Post

OTTAWA (CP) — The Citizen says the leadership of the Liberal party will officially become a two-way contest Friday.

The paper says Paul Martin, former health minister in the Liberal government, will announce his candidacy at the annual meeting of the Essex East Liberal Association in his home city of Windsor. Mr. Martin represents Essex East in the Commons.

Former external affairs minister Lester Pearson declared himself a candidate last week.

Veas Impressive In 7-4 Triumph

Walt Peacosh Leads Locals With Three-Goal Performance

"The Old General" marshaled his forces and then attacked with devastating effect for twenty full minutes last night.

The Kelowna Packers mounted a counter-offensive, but were unable to recoup their losses as Bernie Bathgate's Veas hammered out a 7-4 victory before 1,300 fans.

Walt Peacosh led the Veas, firing three goals and fighting to a draw with Jim Middleton in a flurry of fistfights in the first period.

Hal Tarala, Jack Taggart, Bob Harper and rookie Eddie Diachuk scored the Veas' other markers.

Peacosh's lead was short-lived as the Packers scored twice in the second period.

The smooth left winger was back again at 7:59 to take a double relay from Bathgate and Bob Harper and beat Gatherrum cleanly.

Buddy Laidler was off at the time serving his second straight penalty. He was called for roughing at 4:47, returned to the ice for five seconds and was banished for interference.

Rugged Eddie Diachuk, who had the Packers on the run all night, celebrated his return to the lineup at 9:45, whipping a pass-out past Gatherrum. Slater and Touzin drew assists on the play.

Conway came close seconds later when his high drive from centre ice hit the crossbar.

Peacosh and Middleton started swinging at the Veas' blueline at 13:38, but they only drew two minutes each for roughing. They might not have been fighting, but they were trying.

Midway through the second period, Jack Taggart took a pass from Bernie Bathgate and fooled Gatherrum with a shot that didn't leave the ice.

Packers finally beat Wood at 11:08, Durban scoring from a scramble after Wood had kicked out two shots by Smith and Powell.

Roche outflanked the Veas' defence and then caught the corner with a knee-high drive from the right to cut the margin to two goals at 12:38.

The three-goal lead was restored 29 seconds later as Bob Harper blazed a waist-high drive past Gatherrum after stealing the puck from a Kelowna defender.

A clearing pass went astray at 12:39 and Middleton grabbed the loose puck, moved right in on Wood and fired a low shot into the twine.

Kelowna cut the lead to one goal at 1:45 of the final period as Powell took a pass in the clear and beat Wood cleanly.

A whistling shot from the blueline by Hal Tarala was too hot for Gatherrum to handle at 5:02 and the puck rolled across the line after Gatherrum had partially blocked the shot.

Peacosh got his hat trick with 72 seconds remaining on passes from Bathgate and Harper to close out the scoring.

Veas' outshot the Packers 37-23 over the route and enjoyed a wide edge in territorial play, especially in the first period.

BATHGATE TESTS GATHERUM

Playing coach Bernie Bathgate moves in on Kelowna netminder Dave Gatherrum, in one of the hectic moments in last night's 7-4 win for the Veas. Playing inspired hockey, the Veas completely dominated play in the first period as they chalked up a three-goal lead. Then they matched the league leaders stride for stride the rest of the way to pick up a well-deserved win. Veas host Vernon Canadians Friday night.

FOURTH STRAIGHT WIN

Regals Edge Stamps In Prairie Division

SASKATOON (CP)—Saskatoon place, and five points ahead of fourth-place Calgary. Les Colwill, Ray Ross and Billy Bucyk tallied the Regals goals, with Reg Primeau, Vic Lynn, Buddy McDonald and Bob Kabel setting up plays.

Enlio Selisizzi and Chuck Blair were the Calgary scorers. The Regals swept into a 3-0 lead in the first period and then had trouble holding back the Stampeders, who cut the edge to 3-2 in the second and turned on the pressure late in the scoreless third.

Lucien Bechene played a strong game in the Regals' goal but at the other end of the ice Al Rollins also was spectacular on several stops.

Coast Division	W	L	T	F	A	Pts

Sask-St. Paul	12	13	0	70	84	24
Calgary	9	17	1	69	94	19

Regals grabbed an early 1-0 lead in the first period when Colwill worked in close on a play with Primeau and Lynn to drive a clean shot past Rollins.

Dechene saved the Regals in the following minutes and then at 14:26 Ross increased the Saskatoon lead, scoring on a play with McDonald. In the last minute of the period, Bucyk made it 3-0 on a long shot which dribbled through Rollins' pads.

Calgary pressed in the second period to cut the lead to 3-2 and might have gone ahead except for Dechene's work in the Regals' nets.

SOLISIZZI SCORES
Selisizzi scored Calgary's first goal at 10:57 on a play with the Blair brothers. Dechene made two stops before Selisizzi beat him.

The Stamps closed the gap to 3-2 at 14:10 while the Regals were a man short. Chuck Blair tipped the puck in after Sid Finney's shot. Dusty Blair also had an assist.

Calgary pulled Rollins for the last six seconds of the scoreless third period for a face off in the Regals' zone, but time ran out on the Stampeders.

TOP SPORTS AWARD
NEW YORK (AP) — Jack Dempsey and Carmen Basilio, two bright names in boxing, will receive the sport's top awards for 1957.

Dempsey was voted the James J. Walker Memorial Award for "long and meritorious service" by the Boxing Writers Association at its meeting Tuesday. Basilio was named winner of the Edward J. Neil Memorial Plaque as "Fighter of the Year."

Russians Label Pro Hockey "Ruthless"

MONTREAL (CP) — Moscow Selects have left for home with the impression that Canadian professional hockey is "ruthless" and Frank Selke, Jr., publicity manager of the Montreal Forum, says he's glad they've gone.

The Selects completed an eight-game exhibition tour of Ontario and Quebec last week and watched several National Hockey League games during their Canadian visit.

Their views published Tuesday in the Soviet News Bulletin issued by the Russian embassy in Ottawa are highly complimentary to Canadian amateur hockey but harsh towards professional play.

"Professional hockey," the reports say, "ceases to be a means of strengthening a man's health and it's not accidental that the games of professional hockey players have a ruthless character. Very often the hockey players resort to means that inflict pain on their opponents."

Said Selke, Jr. son of the general manager of Montreal Canadiens, "I'm happy they've gone back to Russia — I'd rather not say any more, really."

CAGE PRACTICES ARE CANCELLED

Basketball practices slated for the Jermyn Avenue gym tonight has been cancelled.

Reason for the cancellation is that polling booths for the civic election are being erected in the gym.

All practices will be held in the high school gym. Barry Ashley's bantams will practice Friday night at 6:45.

Freightways will hold a practice tonight at 8 p.m. in the high school gym.

Durelle Faces Tough Opponent

TAMPA, Fla. — (AP) Free-swinging Jerry Luedee, a tree surgeon when he's not boxing, will try to cut down Yvon Durelle tonight in a light heavyweight fight.

Durelle, the British Empire light heavyweight champion from Baie Ste. Anne, N.B., is a 7-to-5 favorite, however, on the basis of a split decision over Luedee a year ago, a line showing in a draw with highly-rated Tony Anthony, and greater experience. Durelle, a rough and tough ringman, is aiming for a match with champion Archie Moore and will be out for an impressive decision over Luedee.

Luedee, 24, figures he is on the way up and is determined not to let the Canadian throw a block in his path. He has been fighting professionally only four years and has a 30-6-1 record, with 15 knockout victories.

BENEFIT FIGHT
The bout, scheduled for 8 p.m. MST at 10 rounds, will be televised.

The fight will be scored on the National Boxing Association system of 10 points per round. It is part of a benefit program for the Babe Zaharias Memorial Cancer Fund.

Durelle, 28, will probably come in at about 175 pounds. Luedee, from New Haven, Conn., will weigh about 172. Luedee will have the advantage of 2½ inches in height and ½ inch in reach.

Both talk confidently, but not boastfully, of winning. "This is the big one for me," Luedee said. "I think I can win it."

"Maybe there could be what is called an upset but I don't think so," was Durelle's comment.

Durelle has been one of the busiest men in the game, with 12 fights in the past year. He has a winning streak of eight going. He has won 23 fights by knockouts in chalking up a 45-8-2 record.

Canadian Boxer Takes Beating

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Paul Jorgensen, 127, of Houston scored a knockout over Canadian featherweight champion Gaby Pallotti, 124, of Montreal, in 1:31 of the fourth round Tuesday night.

Jorgensen, fourth-ranked featherweight contender by Ring Magazine, has won 15 fights without loss this year. His over-all record now is 60-4-3.

The stronger, larger Jorgensen stalked his foe all the way and was ahead on points when he floored Pallotti with a slashing right to the body in the fourth. The Canadian got up at the nine-count but was an easy target as Jorgensen whaled away with both hands.

Referee Jimmy Webb stopped the fight without a count the second time Pallotti went down.

BLITZ THOSE LINEBACKERS, MEN

Reeve Ridicules Agreements

TORONTO (CP) — Ted Reeve, who has played, coached and written about football for more than 25 years, ridicules the idea of all-star team coaches making pre-game agreements on basic defenses to be employed.

"If you prefer to confab beforehand and endeavor to put in some clever capers by agreement, let us know ahead of time so we can all stay home," the Toronto Telegram sports columnist wrote Tuesday.

Reeve's views were prompted by reports from Montreal last weekend that coaches of Saturday's east-west Shrine game had agreed not to "shoot" linebackers. During the game Wayne Robinson, assistant coach of the west, accused coach Jim Trimble of the eastern club of violating their pre-game agreement.

Reeve referred to news reports from Montreal that said cause of the bitterness was a disagreement agreement covering basic defense each team would use. The stories said such agreements are common in all-star games when coaches have little opportunity to devise anything more than a few basic offensive manoeuvres.

CRASH THROUGH DEFENCE
Saturday's controversy centred around "blitzing," one of numerous football terms for a defence that sends linebackers crashing through the attacking line to smother a play before it can get underway.

Other terms for the same manoeuvre are "red-dogging," "shooting the gap" or "shooting linebackers."

For three years of all-star competitions, coaches have agreed not to use this defence, in deference to the game's spectator appeal.

... or any Canadian football game for that matter... let's all get together and dream up some more dandy new rules. Like when one team punts the ball, no one on the kicker's side shall leave the line of scrimmage until the ball is caught, thereby giving the receiver a great big hippy-hop-to-the-barber-shop start for the runback so the spectators (especially the spectators who are rooting for the kicker's team) will enjoy the match to the full.

"When a forward passer, especially a peachy passer like Frankie Tripuck, intends to throw he will signify his intention to the opposition by waving a dolly in the air so that all the kiddies on the defensive line or secondary shall play 'freeze' (no hitting now, Mabel, or we will ask you to turn in your middy), and thus the all eligible receivers

"Well, fortunately for the sake of sanity and football, too, when it comes to that, chappies like Marlow, Bennett, Kunz, Sharkey, Vaughan, Tully, Vince Scott, Neumann, Hugo, Tinsley, Curcillo and that crowd forget about house rules once that ball is snapped and when they see someone approaching with same, or getting ready to throw it over their bonnets, also forget whether they are blitzing, red-dogging, shooting the gap or just doing what has come naturally since they were wiping some blood off their 10-year-old schnozzles and scraped knees."

He suggested the fans have their ways of enjoying the strategy, the good defensive plays, the situations being built up, and other little issues without needing any help from the hired coaches on what new rules to use "in deference to the game's spectator appeal."

CAMPBELLS ABSORB SETBACK
TORONTO (CP) — A famous western Canadian rink went down in defeat Tuesday night to a less-known quartet of transplanted westerners in first-round play of an annual bonspiel at the Royal Canadian Club.

A. McCloy, Bank of Commerce, defeated the Campbells, brothers of Avonlea, Sask., 10-7, in a contest closer than the score indicated.

The Campbells — Don, Glen, Gordon and Garnet — were expected to win the event.

From This Corner

By GARTH WILTON

Say it quick and it doesn't sound like much — Walt Peacosh. He isn't very big. In fact, sometimes you have to look twice to see him once. But, aside from his diminutive stature, Walt Peacosh is a big gun in the Vees' battle plans.

Last night, while the fans roared their approval, Walt conducted a personal war against the Kelowna Packers. When the shooting was over, Peacosh skated off the ice clearly the victor. The proud and haughty Packers had been humbled by a man only half the size of them.

The shifty left winger fired two goals in the first period and then had to wait until the dying seconds of the third before he beat Dave Gatherum for the third time.

Nevertheless, between the second and third goals, he came up with a lot of hockey.

And, when Jim Middleton got tired chasing him around the ice and threw a few punches in an effort to slow down the little speedster, Walt peeled off his gloves and fired away with both hands.

Even though he provided the spark, Peacosh wasn't the whole show. Bathgate's battalions were primed for the battle. For the second successive game the Vees' defence, especially Tarala and Conway, were belting the opposition forwards. Significantly, it was the first time in a long while that the Vees have been able to put together two straight wins.

On the forward lines they were all digging. No matter who Bathgate sent out on the ice in the first period, they made a shambles of the Packers' defence.

They swarmed around the Kelowna goal, hitting the goal-post once and the top crossbar once, and hammering three goals past Dave Gatherum. In all they fired 15 shots at the Kelowna netminder, while at the other end, George Woods put in the loneliest period since he joined the Vees. He had to handle only three drives.

But when the third period rolled around and the ever-dangerous Packers had the Vees' margin to one goal, Wood out-guessed Bugs Jones on a breakaway.

Tat killed the Kelowna rally. Before the period ended the Vees notched another pair of markers and for the second straight game had finished strongly.

STANLEY CUP BOUND?

Habs Strong Down Centre

By MARTY GOODMAN

Canadian Press Staff Writer

Montreal Canadiens find a middle road the fastest way to the top of the National Hockey League.

Montreal opened a seven-point gap over New York Rangers last week and appear well on the way to their second title in three years.

Reason for the success, coach Hector (Toe) Blake insists, is Canadiens' strength down the centre.

Henri (Pocket Rocket) Richard and Jean Beliveau, centres on the first two lines, are numbers one and two in individual scoring. Goaltie Jacques Plante's 2.00 goals-against average leads the netminders.

It's this strength through the middle, Blake says, which will lead the club not only to the league title but to a third straight Stanley Cup.

BOOSTS TOTAL

Richard, 21, who in two previous NHL seasons upped his points total to 54 from 40, already has 35 points on a league-leading 14 goals and 19 assists.

Beliveau, who won the league scoring title two years ago, is one point behind with 12 goals and 20 assists, most in the league.

Beliveau has come along quickly after a slow start. He was hampered by the loss of high scoring linemate Bernie Geoffrion, ill and injured, and an even slower start by the line's third member, Bert Olmstead. Now all three are firing away at a fast rate.

The Pocket Rocket started out centring the league's hottest line, with brother Maurice and Dickie

Moore firing goals at a near goal-a-game pace.

Maurice suffered a cut achilles tendon 11 games ago and is not expected back until the new year. The Pocket was out for a couple of games and Moore, switched to right wing, found things uncomfortable. The result was a slump.

But then Marcel Bonin, filling in at left wing, came up with some fine performances. Moore found himself, and the Pocket zipped off to another scoring spree.

The support is wonderful, Blake says, but it's the centre strength that is the key.

League action resumes Thursday. New York is at Montreal and Boston plays Detroit. Red Wings in Detroit. There were no games Tuesday night.

Victoria Netter Will Tour U.S.

VANCOUVER (CP) — Susan Butt, 18-year-old tennis leader from Victoria, will leave in about two weeks for Florida to compete on the winter circuit, president Jim Macken of the B.C. Lawn Tennis Association announced today.

The B.C. Association, the Canadian Lawn Tennis Association and the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club are co-operating in providing finances for the trip. Macken said Miss Butt will open the tour at the Dixie Championships in Tampa, Fla., Dec. 30 and will go from there to St. Petersburg, Hollywood Beach and Fort Lauderdale.

It was considered a possibility that she might also play in later tournaments in Puerto Rico, Jamaica, Bermuda and the eastern United States.

TROJAN HORSE FOOLS GEESE

MAGRATH, Alta. (CP) — Two hunters from this southern Alberta town used their own version of the Trojan horse recently and bagged their quota of geese.

Earl Seward and Eugene Rice made a wooden horse big enough so that when it was supported over their stooped bodies, their legs took the place of the four legs of the horse.

It was authentic enough to fool a flock of big Canada geese. The geese were feeding in fields east of the Seward farm. The "horse" appeared, wandered around the field and approached nearer and nearer.

When within range, the horse gave up its hidden men and when the smoke had cleared, six geese were in the bag — five of them weighing more than 13 pounds each.

Podres Gets NL Earned Run Title

NEW YORK (AP) — Johnny Podres' brief stint in the United States Navy did not affect his pitching excellence.

Podres, who shut out New York Yankees in the final game of the 1955 world series to give Brooklyn Dodgers their first world championship, captured the National League's earned run title in 1957, official records showed Tuesday.

Podres, a southpaw, had an earned run average of 2.66. He yielded only 38 earned runs in 196 innings, while winning 12 games and losing nine. He also led the league in shutouts with six.

Warren Spahn of Milwaukee Braves also collected his share of honors. He was the league's only 20-game winner, reaching the mark for the eighth time. The veteran left-hander tied Dodgers' Don Drysdale for second place in the earned run competition with 2.69 and was tops in complete games with 18. His won-lost record was 21-11.

Bob Buhl, another Braves stalwart, was the percentage leader with .720, resulting from an 18-7 record.

Robin Roberts of Philadelphia Phillies had his most disappointing campaign. He gave up pace setting totals of 40 home runs, 22 defeats and 122 runs allowed.

Warriors Move to Within Two Points of Second Spot

ROSSLAND (CP) — Rossland Warriors moved within two points of second place in the Western International Hockey League Tuesday night when they defeated Nelson Maple Leafs, current holders of the position, 7-3.

The Spokane Flyers lead the league with 26 points, six better than the Leafs.

Centremen Harold Jones paced the Warrior attack with two goals while the line of Leo Lucchini, Alex Birukow and Norm Lenardon, along with teammates Ray Demore and Bud Andrews, all added singles.

Captain Don Appleton of Nelson got a pair of markers while his right winger, Lionel Martini, added the other.

The game saw only two minor penalties, one to each club. Martini went off in the second period for elbowing, as did Warrior defenceman Paddy McCabe in the same period.

In a lacklustre first period, the Warriors dominated the play, counting two goals. The hosts continued their attack in the second frame notching three goals while Nelson retaliated with one. Goaltender Gus Adams of the Leafs allowed two more to escape his notice in the final frame as his teammates countered with the same number.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Philadelphia Eagles will unload head coach Hugh Devore at the end of this National Football League season, it was learned Tuesday.

A reliable source said Devore would be paid off for the final year of his three-year contract.

WILTSE ROLLS HIGH TRIPLE

The Bank of Commerce team of the Mixed Bowling League captured single game honors Tuesday when they rolled up a 973 score. Triple game honors went to Transits with 2,720.

Individual honors for the ladies went to Shirley Wiltse with a high triple score of 630 and Edna Almond with a single game score of 273.

For the men it was Frank Metcalfe with a high triple score of 273.

Brown Best Bet For U.S. Pro Rushing Title

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Barring illness or injury, Cleveland's Jimmy Brown appeared today to have the National Football League's ground-gaining championship all wrapped up.

With one game remaining on the regular schedule, Brown has picked up 864 yards on 187 attempts for a 4.6-yard average. Rick Casares of the Chicago Bears is in second place with a yardage total of 684.

Cleveland Browns, champions of the NFL's Eastern division, also boasts the pro league's No. 1 passer.

The Browns' Tommy O'Connell idle last Sunday, held on to first place in forward passes. He's thrown 110 passes, completed 63 for 1,229 yards and eight touchdowns, an average of 11.17 yards a pass. Former Calgary Stampeder, Eddie LeBaron of Washington Redskins is second with 90 completions in 154 attempts for 1,426 yards and a 9.26 average.

Sam Baker of Washington and Cleveland's Lou Groza are tied for the most points scored, each with 67.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:
One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

The bidding:
South West North East
1 ♠ Pass 1 NT Pass

Opening lead—king of hearts.
Twenty million kibitzers who followed the progress of the Lenz-Culbertson match were thoroughly baffled by Ely Culbertson's bidding on this hand.
Nearly everybody, then and today, would open the bidding with the South hand, and if they did not, would surely take strong action over partner's notrump bid.
The plain truth is Culbertson never saw the king of diamonds during the bidding, that worthy card having modestly hidden itself behind another so that its existence was unknown to Culbertson. Experts are human, too!
Mrs. Culbertson's notrump bid (1931 version) shows how radically bidding methods have changed with the years. Today, only two.

most players would open with a club.
Culbertson eventually discovered the king of diamonds among his cards and recovered sufficiently during the play to execute a criss-cross squeeze.
Jacoby overtook the heart lead and returned the deuce. Lenz won with the ten and led back the three of hearts which Jacoby ruffed. The jack of diamonds returned was taken with the ace in dummy.
Culbertson played five rounds of trumps, at which point this was the situation:

The last trump was played, Lenz discarding a club, dummy a heart. But Jacoby could find no suitable discard.
If he parted with a diamond, declarer would cash the king and dummy would take the rest. If he gave up the nine of clubs, dummy would cash the ace and declarer would take the rest.
So Culbertson made four, picking up a cool 30 points by a complicated squeeze. But he had changed with the years. Today, only two.

Disney and Dali Are Old Friends

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Notes and comment on the Hollywood scene—
Offhand you wouldn't think Walt Disney and Salvador Dali had much in common. But though of different schools, they're both artists and they're also good friends. Disney visited Dali at the latter's home on the Mediterranean while en route from France to Spain.

Dali once worked at the Disney studio for a spell, devising a surrealistic sequence for one of the animated vaudeville features the company was making after the war. But such films, failed to sell, and the project was scrapped.

ACTING STYLES
Frank Sinatra on acting styles "I never have been a fan of the sweatshirt school of acting. The only one of that group I admire is Eli Wallach, and he has gone far beyond it. When I heard he had tested for Magglio in From Here to Eternity, I told my agents I didn't have a chance. Fortunately for Frank, Wallach couldn't do the film because of another commitment.
James Mason did some opinion to drama students at UCLA, attacking commercialism in the American theatre. Said he: "Playhouse 90 is one of the biggest productions on television. And who should come out in the middle but Bing Crosby selling gas. That is compromising one's art too far."
Lots of folks are wondering why Bing is doing the gas pitch.

The reason is simple: Money...

LAUREL AND HARDY
Stan Laurel read reports that Jack Webb was planning to film the Laurel and Hardy biography with Jackie Gleason and Art Carney, if a good story can be written. Stan has heard news from Webb, but he approves casting. His comment: "Gleason and Carney are only comedy team. They are us—two comeds. They are a man."
Wonder who the "man" Tracy walked away from? Fredrickson, because he's against playing a man with young girls. So Gary Cooper gets to romance the "man" in the film.

2 Flee From River Flooding

MAYO, Y.T. (CP) — A dozen persons have been forced from their homes by flood waters from the Mayo River in this settlement 200 miles north of Whitehorse.

"This is the first time we've had floods in December," said territorial engineer Ken Baker Tuesday.

Fluctuations in the water level of the Mayo River created ice jams, causing the river to overflow its banks. The road from here to Whitehorse has been cut off but traffic is still moving to Dawson City, using ice bridges. Stewart and Pelly Crossings, Dawson is about 130 miles west.

Pollution of Rivers Studied

OTTAWA (CP) — Amendment of the criminal code to make pollution of interprovincial rivers a criminal offence "deserves consideration," Prime Minister Diefenbaker said Tuesday.

However, he added in a Commons reply to Max Campbell (CCF — The Battlefords), this would have to be done at a future session of Parliament. The present session already had enough legislation before it.

Calls Breakwater Fine Seagulls' Roost

OTTAWA (CP) — George Hahn, Social Credit member for New Westminster, said Tuesday night

7-Year World Trip Completed

DAWSON CREEK, B.C. (CP) — Ben Carlin, venturesome Australian, crossed the Peace River recently on the last leg of a seven-year trip that has taken him around the world in an amphibious jeep. He is on his way to Montreal by way of Vancouver and the United States.

The collapse of the Peace River bridge on the Alaska Highway meant little to the bearded traveller. Leaving motorists queued up for a nearby ferry, Carlin nosed his jeep into the swirling river and chugged across to the other side.

He surmounted the minor obstacle with the aplomb that has carried him 50,000 miles in the 22-foot half-boat, half-jeep, appropriately named the Half Safe.

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — An unidentified missile, fired from the missile test centre here, shot upward and out of sight into a bright blue sky today.

at the resort town near the United States border, was promised by the Liberals in the 1953 election and was built eventually.

However, it was not long enough to give adequate protection to boats. Thus many Canadian yachtsmen anchored their craft at Blaine, Wash., the border point, where they spent a lot of vacation money that could be spent in White Rock.

Mr. Hahn said the government should extend the present breakwater or build a new one.

Tom Irwin (SC-Burnaby-Richmond) raised a similar grievance concerning the breakwater at the fishing boat basin at Steveston, B.C.

He said that when the breakwater was built more than two years ago it was understood that it would be 200 feet longer than at present. The basin, because of an inadequate breakwater, was open to "the full sea fury" of the Strait of Georgia.
